One of the most opprobrious terms which foreigners are in the habit of applying to prominent Chinese is that of foreign-hater, and the bitterest invective which the Chinese apply to each other is to call them proforeign, or "devil slaves." The feeling. sufficiently general to form an integral part of the othics of the people. And if one e nsider a little what the sentiments of patriotic Chinaman must naturally be, it will be hard to come to any other conclusion than that hatrel of the foreigner is not necessarily a characteristic of the worst class of the Chinese population. Nowhere has the feeling risan to such a height as in the province of Hunan; and the Hunanese are distinguished for energy and capacity be youd most of their fellow nationals. Many of the most important functions of the ad ministration are in their hands, the military defines of the Yungtsze and Coast provinces. the management of Turkestan, with numerous high political offices; and there is no section of the whole Chinese people who erriv so much weight in the counsels of the Empire as the Hunan section. H. K. C. C. v. United Services. In the absence of any interport match the contests with the United Services may be looked upon as the crack fixtures of the Hongkeing Cricket Club, and every effort is made on either side up in such occasions to place the full cricket strength of the colony in the field. In the preget their best team together. Several names | made to fetch the mark, where she found Lady match we may be able to see him in his best were:form both behind and before the sticks. The club, as will be seen, were strongly represented it is probable that their team could not have been materially strength ned. It was unfortunate that a match which calls forth a good deal of interest should have been somewhat spoilt, at any rate from a speciator's point et view, by the conditions of the weather. Fri day was dull and cloudy and Saturday be gan and ended up with a cold drizzling rain which fell throughout the day, not heavily enough to stop play, but persistently enough to make playing difficult and uncomfortable. E J. Coxon with a lucky shilling was fortunate in winning the tass. He of course elected to take first innings; and when stumps were drawn on Friday night the Club total stood at :51 for seven wickets, the chief contributors being Ellis with a freely hit 55, Firth 38, and Leach 41. The two latter were run out. the former by a very smart piece of fielding on the part of Taylor and the latter by a piece of very bad judgment on the part of his partner. The not outs, Maitland 37 and Rain 8, resumed on Saturday morning and the score was carried t the respectable total of 357 for nine wie ets when the innings was declared closed, Maitland having contributed 82, which included a 5 and the ten 4s, before he encoumbed to one of Hughes Hughes' lobs, and Ram 55 not out. Elight of the Services' team tried their hands at trundling, but only two could be said to have met with much success, Hughes Hughes with 3 wickets for 44 runs and Liddle with 2 for 49. Being in the unpleasant position of having no chance of winning and a very fair chance of being besten the United Services opened their innings with Markham and Flower to the howling of Lowson and E. J. Coxon. Flower played good cricket for 31, and C. J. Taylor (57) and Hughes-Hughes (26) tried hard to stave off defeat, but the others seemed unable to cope with the Club's deliveries and the side was out eventually about half an hour before time for 172. Taylor was the last to sucoumb, being somewhat unluckily bowled off his leg. His 57 was a very carefully played but withal hard hit innings. The Club thus won the match by 185 runs. Lowson was the most successful bowler as he captured 6 wickets for 67 rans. E. J. Coxon getting 2 for 52 and Firth 2 for 26. The wicket was of course somewhat affected by the rain, which rendered it at times tricky and unreliable; i could not be said, however, to be anything like a difficult wicket, and none of the bowlers seemed to get very much work on the ball.

Fifty more men were added to the efficient listelater. raised after the annual training. The total strength of the Corps would then not be very far short of three hundred. The expenditure for the year was Tls. 8.275.93, say men, estimate the annual expenditure at for France on laws of abstance. While on ? amounting to $16,000; These amounts were cut down by the Governor in his speech at the opening of the session of the Legislative Council to $13,000 for the annual maintenance of the Corps and $10,000 for the initial expenses. If for these sums, we could secure as good a Corps as that in existence at Shanghai the Colony, would have very good reason to be satisfied with the result though the annual cost would still be $2,000 in excess of that at the northern port.

They proceed anmolected until one, a little more daring than ! the rest, simed a blow at one of the Custome staff but the assailant fell before his blow. he found homself sprawling at that gentlemen' fet knocked over the head by a tor-igner tick. Then some fun bagin, the natoms staff charging the rioters in the compound, when they saw meant business. Vaking their was through the mob they shut the gare of the compound, enclosing nearly a hundred rictors igd on these they fall to work in glorious stylthe miscreauts, howling meanwhile, be ng soundy belaboured with the foreigners' sticks. The endor, who attempted to fell one of the for-igners with a hage beam, was at ones as mired, and is many of the others as possible had their headsracked as they rushed out of ande entrance with a foreigner on each side dealing out lusty blows as a parting salute. Thus the compound as cleared, and the ringlesder, or one of them Manwhile Dr. Fedarb, Lieut, Ussher, R.M A nd Mr. Holman, gunzer, of the ganboat, made the best of their way to the Consulate to, if a cessary, assist the British Consul. The mob still how her and dangeron, it was though mossary to land the blasjackets and the cunner fired a rocket sa signal. Captain Ravenhill at once fell in his landing party and in fiv. minutes was on the way to the C naulate; but the river has fallen so frat, and become so shallow over the sandbank, that their outtor went agr and about half way in. On the 29th the voice and gong of the charmer were used to better purpose; and the veho-mence and exaggeration had been sufficiently increased not only to gather a mob; but to fire them to action. After the first assault on the houses by the mob, workmen were employed to put up a high and formidable fance, so us to enwailings and shadows of truth, the false imige- and flotilious restities, omjured up by the hysterical lady were, however, sufficient to inspire the prowd with a patriotism that laying held of their sould arged them to bully and threaten their Chinese countrymen. the workmen, and ecentually order them to discontinue their labours, or pursue it at their peril. Thus with the grave business as a standing named to the peace we steadily advance towards a repetition of the violent eruption of Septemper, 1891; simmaring meanwille. It does not reed a Sherlock Holmes to conjecture what all his may portend. I comber will be the month or finil eximinations, and placked students vill probably be as thick as leaves in Vallombross These gentry coming from outlying listricts will be irresponsible possibly malirious, and certainly good for a shy at the in igners before they deport the city. The entiment of Ancestral Worship may be stirred o the depths, through the medium of this old woman; and they can depart, instanter, after the subsaval, chartling as they increase the distance between themselves and the city of their bad fungahui. Here lies the germ of fature trouble, which even the presence of the gunboat may fail o prevent, though her crew may mitigate it. A new factsi is expected here in a day or so. It is sincerely to be hoped he is of the right rd bre, for there is certainly lenty of room for . good man. Meantime we discuss possibilities around rearing stoves, in sight of a river fast wording to zero, and snow-capped hill and nountain arraying themselves in winter garb.

THE EVOLUTION OF "YANKEE.

COW." A correspondent writes from Weibien to the V. C. Daily News :- "he absurd combination Yunker-cow" is nothing more than the Englah m riner's att-mot to pronounce Yangkuahton the name of a native seaport on the northern coast of Shantung. This obscure port lies at no month of the Siacching Ho about 80 ii S.B. of the present mouth of the Yellow River. Withn the past two vearaour hefor I tot if has given prite an impetus to the commerce of the place by stab'i-hing steam navigation between that port in | Chafoo, About that times freakof the Yellow River left the jank port Tiebmenkuan high and try, this turning the business of that place torard Yang wishkon. Subsequently the Tantai. undertook to dig a canal or river called Shin Ho o convert obsing lake with the sea. That ike has her tofore found as outlit through the Biaoching He, whose waters now flow by the New Liver (Shin He) into the gul of P chili, at a naural inlet known by the nussyoury name of Mushukon, which is by interpretat on "Sow Hollow" As this inlet lies south of Yangküahkon about we miles, that ancient port has been dismontled nd rebuilt, with greater display and larger prospects, on the south bink of the inlet, and ojnings in the afore-mentioned appellation Juchnkon (pronounce " Moogewgo"). But, ales, ven as "Yentai" has been falsely ca led " Jhefoo." n w our new and flourishing port " Sow Holow" (Muchu ou) is erroneously styled Ying. "ushkon (" Ram's horn Hollow ") and worse than ill, in the lings of the Western Barbarian, becomes "Yankes-cow"! To avoid confusion of ongues let us adhere to the real name, and call he place Tuchukou, or Meogooge if you please. This little port promises to become an important factor in developing the commerce of the utorior. Unfortunately it out be approached by light deaft vessels only, as the sediment from the Y llow fiver has seriously choked the harbour, Should the wayward Yellow tver be altowed to take its course, in a w seasons the whole volume of that stream vil flow out at Vinchakou. Already the floods from the Chitney crovesse have seriously dameged the dikes of the New River, and I am not are but that this threatened change in the nouth of the Y How River might inure to the farher exaltation of our ambitious " Yankee-cow."
